Climb the career development ladder with our Postgraduate courses

The MA/Postgraduate Diploma or Certificate in Educational Studies (Early Years and Deafness) is a post-qualification pathway targeted at teachers of the deaf, audiologists and other practitioners who work or are intending to work with very young children and babies who are deaf and their families.

This course is unique in the United Kingdom. All modules are offered as stand-alone 30 credit modules. Students may undertake individual modules or complete a certificate (2 modules), a diploma (4 modules) or progress to MA. The MA is awarded following the successful completion of the four postgraduate diploma modules and a research project.

MA/PG DIP/CERT IN EDUCATIONAL STUDIES (EARLY YEARS AND DEAFNESS)

The Postgraduate Diploma has a 4 module structure taught over 2 years of study. Students who wish to complete an MA complete a research methods module and dissertation in Year 3.

Students have regular face to face contact with teaching staff at the residential study weekends. Each module has a designated study weekend in which there are taught sessions, group seminars and opportunity for individual tutorial support. All students are encouraged to make contact by email with module leaders and the course leader for support and guidance as required and contact details of staff are available to all students.
